

Power rests with the people.

DEMOCRATIC

AUTOCRATIC

DEMOCRATIC

- Power rests with the people.

AUTOCRATIC

One person has all the power.

DEMOCRATIC

- Power rests with the people.

AUTOCRATIC

DEMOCRATIC

- Power rests with the people.

AUTOCRATIC

- One person has all the power.

A teacher decides there will be a test on Friday.

DEMOCRATIC

- Power rests with the people.

AUTOCRATIC

- One person has all the power.

DEMOCRATIC

- Power rests with the people.

AUTOCRATIC

- One person has all the power.
- A teacher decides there will be a test on Friday.

A mother listens to her daughter complain about not being allowed to stay out late and then decides to let her stay out one hour later.

DEMOCRATIC

- Power rests with the people.

AUTOCRATIC

- One person has all the power.
- A teacher decides there will be a test on Friday.

DEMOCRATIC

- Power rests with the people.

AUTOCRATIC

- One person has all the power.
- A teacher decides there will be a test on Friday.
- A mother listens to her daughter complain about not being allowed to stay out late then decides to let her stay out one hour later.

A group of friends choose which movie to see.

DEMOCRATIC

- Power rests with the people.

AUTOCRATIC

- One person has all the power.
- A teacher decides there will be a test on Friday.
- A mother listens to her daughter complain about not being allowed to stay out late then decides to let her stay out one hour later.

DEMOCRATIC

- Power rests with the people.
- A group of friends choose which movie to see.

AUTOCRATIC

- One person has all the power.
- Teacher decides there will be a test Friday.
- A mother listens to her daughter complain about not being allowed to stay out late then decides to let her stay out one hour later.