

Brainstorming Lyrics for a Song of Resistance

Directions: Pretend you are a South African who has been jailed for protesting apartheid. Complete the spoke diagram below by recording at least three details about life under apartheid for each of the five areas represented on the diagram. After you list what you see, hear, feel, want, and experience, turn your simple words or phrases into lines of a song on the back of this handout. For example, under the category "What I Feel," you might write "alone and cold." That detail could be turned into the line, "Alone I sit in my cold cell."
